

Death and Violence

Friday 25 January 2019, 10.00am - 4.30pm

Mary Seacole Building, Room MS302, the University of Salford
Social Aspects of Death, Dying and Bereavement Study Group (DDB) and Violence and Society Study Group

10.00 – 10.30am Registration over tea and coffee

10.30 – 10.40am Welcome and Introductions

Session 1 – Serial Murder, Hatred and Inequality (10.40am- 12.10pm)

Contaminated remains: Violent deaths and monstrous ashes

Dr Imogen Jones, University of Leeds

'At first it was just prostitutes, so who really cares?': The Yorkshire Ripper and endemic hatred of prostitutes

Claire Cunningham, PhD Candidate, University of Sheffield

Violence, place and haunting: Using Spectrality to explore murder and inequality

Dr Louise Wattis, Teeside University

12.10 – 13.00pm Lunch (provided)

Session 2 – Dealing with Violent Deaths: Activism, Rehabilitation and Peace-Keeping (1.00 – 2.30pm)

The role of intimidation and paramilitary punishment attacks in death by suicide in Northern Ireland

Dr Sharon Mallon, The Open University

Working with those who have killed – moral, 'rehabilitative' and wider issues for individuals and society

Dr Andrew Shepherd, Clinical Lecturer, University of Manchester, and SpR Forensic Psychiatry, NHS North West of England Deanery

Bereaved family activism in the aftermath of lethal violence: A case study of mothers against violence

Dr Elizabeth Cook, University of Sheffield

2.30 – 2.50pm Tea and coffee

Session 3 – Structural Violence, Conflict and Death (2.50 – 4.20pm)

Death by bureaucracy

Rebecca Williams, PhD Candidate, University College London (UCL)

Risky deaths: Life insurance and urban violence in New Orleans

Nikki Mulder, PhD Candidate, Leiden University

Nazi concentration camp architecture and topography: Challenges to the totem of Auschwitz

Dr Rachael Burns, University of York

4.20 – 4.30pm Concluding Remarks (followed by informal get-together)

Click here for Registration info and here for Venue Details

Click for here for DDB Study Group Page and here for Violence and Society Study Group Page

Contact: BSADDB@gmail.com