

CALL FOR PAPERS

Education and Social Mobility: Celebrating Richard Breen's Contribution to Sociology

The European Sociological Review is delighted to announce a forthcoming special issue dedicated to celebrating the influential career of Professor Richard Breen. As a leading figure in sociology, Professor Breen's work has significantly shaped contemporary sociological thought, particularly in the study of social stratification and mobility, as well as social demography and sociological methodology.

We invite scholars to submit original theoretically driven empirical research papers that advance the understanding of education and social mobility. While we especially welcome studies that directly engage with themes central to Professor Breen's work, we also encourage contributions from the broader fields of social stratification and mobility, demography, or sociological methodology, in line with the publication tradition of the European Sociological Review.

Submission Guidelines:

- Manuscripts should be prepared according to the journal's standard author guidelines <https://academic.oup.com/esr>.
- Submissions must be made through the European Sociological Review online submission system (<http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/esr>) by 15 June 2025.
- All papers will undergo the Journal's standard peer-review process.
- Manuscripts submitted should clearly refer to the special issue in their cover letter

Important Dates:

- Manuscript Submission Deadline: 15 June 2025
- Notification of first Review Results: 15 Sep 2025
- Expected Publication Date in 2026

Editors: Fabrizio Bernardi, Kristian Bernt Karlson, Jan O. Jonsson, and Berkay Ozcan

Contact Information:

For inquiries regarding this special issue, please contact editor-in-chief, Fabrizio Bernardi, at europesociologicalreview@gmail.com.

We look forward to your valuable contributions to this special issue, which aims to honor Professor Richard Breen's enduring impact on the study of social mobility and stratification.